

AS HISTORY

America: A Nation Divided, c1845–1877

Component 2J The origins of the American Civil War, c1845–1861

Tuesday 23 May 2017

Afternoon

Time allowed: 1 hour 30 minutes

Materials

For this paper you must have:

- an AQA 16-page answer book.

Instructions

- Use black ink or black ball-point pen.
- Write the information required on the front of your answer book. The Paper Reference is 7041/2J.
- Answer two questions.
In Section A answer Question 01.
In Section B answer either Question 02 or Question 03.

Information

- The marks for questions are shown in brackets.
- The maximum mark for this paper is 50.
- You will be marked on your ability to:
 - use good English
 - organise information clearly
 - use specialist vocabulary where appropriate.

Advice

- You are advised to spend about:
 - 50 minutes on Section A
 - 40 minutes on Section B.

Section A

Answer Question 01.

Source A

From a speech by James Henry Hammond, Senator for South Carolina, to the US Senate, 4 March 1858.

The South has sustained the North in great measure. You (the North) fetch and carry for us. One hundred and fifty million dollars of our money passes annually through your hands. It assists to keep your machinery together and in motion. Suppose we were to discharge you; suppose we were to take our business out of your hands; we should consign you to anarchy and poverty. You complain of the rule of the South; that has been the force that has preserved you in your affluence. We have kept the Government conservative to the great purposes of the Constitution. We have placed it, and kept it, upon the Constitution; and that has been the cause of your peace and prosperity. 5

Source B

From 'The Cotton Kingdom: a traveller's observations' by Frederick Law Olmsted, published in 1861. Olmsted was a Northern journalist who carried out research in the Southern states in the 1850s.

Let a man be absent from the North for twenty years, and he is struck, on his return, by the 'improvements' which we have made: better buildings, churches, schoolhouses, mills, railroads and much more. It is not difficult to see where the profits of our manufacturers and merchants are. But where will the returning traveller see the accumulated cotton profits of twenty years in the South? Ask the cotton-planter for them, and he will point not to libraries, churches, schoolhouses, mills, railroads or anything else; he will point to the increased number of slaves he owns and almost nothing else. The total increase in wealth of the southern population during the last twenty years shows for almost nothing. 5

0	1
---	---

With reference to these sources and your understanding of the historical context, which of these two sources is more valuable in explaining the economic issues affecting the Northern and Southern states?

[25 marks]

Section B

Answer either Question 02 or Question 03.

Either

0	2
---	---

 'The American Republic was politically stable in c1845.'

Explain why you agree or disagree with this view.

[25 marks]

or

0	3
---	---

 'The outcome of the 1856 Election was the most important reason for the rise of the Republican Party by 1858.'

Explain why you agree or disagree with this view.

[25 marks]

END OF QUESTIONS

There are no questions printed on this page

Copyright information

For confidentiality purposes, from the November 2015 examination series, acknowledgements of third party copyright material will be published in a separate booklet rather than including them on the examination paper or support materials. This booklet is published after each examination series and is available for free download from www.aqa.org.uk after the live examination series.

Permission to reproduce all copyright material has been applied for. In some cases, efforts to contact copyright-holders may have been unsuccessful and AQA will be happy to rectify any omissions of acknowledgements. If you have any queries please contact the Copyright Team, AQA, Stag Hill House, Guildford, GU2 7XJ.

Copyright © 2017 AQA and its licensors. All rights reserved.